Lylah and Alyssa protecting their sandcastle with vegetation in Science.

Full STEAM Ahead

Yesterdays excursion to Landsborough was fun, the art session was about decorating hands with sequins, beads and bright colours. In music, we learnt the difference between beat and rhythm. The science lessons were about rain causing erosion and how vegetation can reduce the amount of erosion. Our next Full STEAM Ahead day is Monday, March 18th.

Mr Kennedy demonstrating erosion by pouring water on the sandcastle.

Scholastic Book Club orders due back 15th March.
